That happy, old tradition of an ELGIN watch for

Graduation

Somehow an Elgin Watch on a fellow's graduation from prep school or college has come to be a tradition . . . just like the right to vote when a fellow's twenty-one. Boys get to expect it. Of course, they have other watches . . . but the ELGIN that a boy looks forward to when he graduates is another kind of watch . . . not just a minute marker . . . but a finer watch, a lifetime watch, a mark of having arrived at man's estate.

And through generations of choice by fathers and sons on this day of days, ELGIN has come to be the traditional watch for graduation gifts. To its unflinching accuracy and lifetime dependability, ELGIN has added a new modernity of style and beauty that makes it more than ever a welcome and cherished gift. See our displays.
